POSITIVE EMPLOYEE RELATIONS

IFA has partnered with HRDuo to offer an Employment Law Service to members. IFA's Employment Service enables members to become and remain compliant with employment law legislation, which is every changing and impacts all areas from hiring to employee exit.

Poor employment practices expose farm businesses to the following:

- Employer exposed financially
- Increased operational costs
- Ineffective use of resources
- Exposure to WRC & labour court action
- High staff turnover
- Difficult to manage staff without proper policies in place

What is included

Initial Review

HRDuo will carry out a full review of the documentation and practices, to ensure documents are up to date with legislation and consistent with each other. This review will:

- Review and revise all contracts of Employment as necessary
- Create new contracts of Employment where required
- Review and revise all policies and procedures
- Create additional policies and procedures as required
- Review employee handbook and ensure consistency with the policies and procedures
- Create a new employee handbook as required
- Create all required HR records and correspondence

Online Software

The online platform is a key resource that assists farmers/ business owners in storing key staff information, as well as recording leave and other mandatory records. HRDuo will work closely with clients to set the system up and ensure all employees have access.

The in-house cloud-based computer system maintains all your record keeping and data processing, keeps it all in one place safely, securely and always up to date. It includes a smartphone app which is available to all employees
